

Learning Japanese Arts: Tamamushi Lacquerware Traditional Craft Experience

Silver sparkles out from underneath glossy red and green lacquer. Named after the jewel beetle for its glamorous luster and brilliant tones, Tamamushi lacquerware is a traditional craft that originated in Sendai.

Experience makie, the process of creating a design in silver or gold powder on lacquer. English support available.

Dates: May 18th, June 15th

*Please enquire for dates other than those listed above.

Place: Tohoku Kogei Seisakusho (3-3-20 Kamisugi, Aoba-ku, Sendai City)

Time: 2:00 – 3:00 p.m.

Fee: From 1,000 yen (Differs according to the object you wish to decorate; fee includes one drink.)

Inquiries: Tohoku Kogei Seisakusho Tel. 022-222-5401

(Reservations must be made two weeks in advance. A minimum of 10 participants per session are required.)