

Send us your atomic bomb memoirs and peace messages to include in the Peace Declaration

The City of Hiroshima wishes to pass along, share, and spread to the world the experiences of the atomic bombing and peace messages from the atomic bomb survivors themselves.

In this context, we are calling for submissions of memoirs of true experiences of the atomic bombing and peace messages to pass on to the next generation from atomic bomb survivors, in line with the theme below.

Selected memoirs and peace messages will be included in this year's Peace Declaration.

Furthermore, all the memoirs and messages will be compiled in a booklet and used as documents to transmit the reality of the atomic bombing, such as through distribution to the city's junior/senior high schools.

■ Submission Contents

Atomic bomb memoirs and peace messages

*The memoir does not have to be newly written.

*We also welcome submissions of memoirs written down by a third party through dictation from an atomic bombing survivor.

■ Theme
